

I strongly oppose further consolidation of media ownership. Large corporations already have too much control and use that control to present corporate-biased reporting to the public.